April 4, 2018 | by LAURA LORDI

Love art? Love art outdoors? You're in luck. This weekend CityPlace will transform into an outdoor art show at the 8th annual downtown West Palm Beach Art Festival. More than 100 artists will feature all kinds of mediums including fine art, life-size sculptures, jewelry, photography, ceramics and more.

The festival will take place during CityPlace's Art Affair, which is a week-long event happening April 7 through April 15 and includes a series of art and cultural workshops, artist talks and a walking art tour. Visit the Art Affair website for more information.

The weekend art festival is family-friendly and pets on leashes are welcome.
